Here are the top 5 hosts in the following categories

PHP Hosts | ASP .Net Hosts | Managed Server Hosting | Free Hosting

After years of working in web hosting industry and interacting with almost every major host in the industry, here are the editor's lists of the Top 5 web hosts. Top 5 PHP Hosts 1. HostGator.com - Hostgator.com is one of the few larger webhosts that actually goes above and beyond the call of duty for their customers. And the company's growth shows it! They went from being founded in 2002 to being one of the largest web hosts on the internet. They offer 24/7/365 support by chat, phone, and ticket system. And with 5 datacenters and redundant internet links, you shouldn't need to waste you time worrying about whether or not your site is up. 2. Godaddy.com - Godaddy.com is the largest web host in the US. They offer some of the best prices on the internet (in the $4 per month range) and are pretty reliable. The only downside to them is that with all those domains their support is just ok. If you are fairly technical and looking for a deal then godaddy would be a great host for you. Also if you haven't bought a domain yet, I would definitely recommend them. They are the best domain registrar hands down as far as I am concerned. 3. HostMonster.com - Hostmonster.com is a good web host with really good support. They offer a ton of extra features with your account and are reliable. 4. Yahoo Hosting - Yahoo Hosting is probably the most reliable of all of the hosting services. If you are technically competent, have a really low tolerance for downtime, and shouldn't need much in the name of help, Yahoo would be a great choice for you. 5. Intermedia.net - These guys are very geared toward small and mid-sized business hosting. They are kind of expensive but they are good. If you need one of their other services, I.E. hosted exchange, or sharepoint hosting, these guys are a good choice.

Top 5 ASP.Net Hosts 1. DiscountASP.net - Hosting ASP.net is all that these guys do. If there's a demand for an asp.net feature, odds are that these guys have it. They rolled windows server 2008 hosting out shortly after it first became available. They're a good host with economical plans which makes them my top pick for asp.net hosting. 2. StartLogic - These guys are great. They have a great .net install with all of the features that you could want. Their control panel is set up in a way that make it really easy to administer your account. Their prices are very low for windows hosting. Finally, they have absolutely amazing customer support. Check them out! 3. APlus.net - Aplus.net is a reliable host that offers .net hosting at all of their package levels. They have every bell and whistle your may think you'd 4. Godaddy.com - Just as I said in the PHP section, Godaddy.com is the largest web host in the US. They offer some of the best prices on the internet (in the $4 per month range) and are pretty reliable. The only downside to them is that with all those domains their support is just ok, also as far as ASP.net is concerned there are a few nice features that they don't have. If you are fairly technical and looking for a deal then godaddy would be a great host for you. Also if you haven't bought a domain yet, I would definitely recommend them. They are the best domain registrar hands down as far as I am concerned. 5. Network Solutions - Network solutions is very expensive but they also have one of the better support groups out there, and they have many features with their .net plans that you don't find anywhere else. Top 5 Managed Server Hosts

1. Fastservers.net
2. Rackspace.com
3. LunarPages.com
4. ThePlanet.com
5. Hostgator.com
